

2005 Cabernet Sauvignon Atlas Peak, Napa Valley

Cobblestone Cabernet Sauvignon is made entirely from the fruit of our family estate vineyard 1500 feet high in Napa Valley's Atlas Peak appellation.

The exceptional 2005 vintage is a blend of our two Cabernet Sauvignon clones along with 9% Cabernet Franc.

The fruit from our mountain vineyard consistently delivers incredible complexity and structure. Following our tradition, we have provided extended bottle aging so we can present a wine that is approachable on release while still showing outstanding cellaring potential.

Unfined and unfiltered, the 2005 may be our richest and most intense vintage yet.

Tasting notes:

The nose and palate offer a range of black fruits punctuated by ripe Bing cherry, as well as smoke, winter spice, bittersweet chocolate and minerality, followed by a bone-dry finish framed in elegant, toasted oak.
